

Accreditation of Child, Youth and Family Services Training Modules

Introduction

The Newfoundland and Labrador Association of Social Workers is the regulatory body and professional association for social workers and is responsible for regulating the practice of social work under provincial legislation titled the Social Workers Act (2010). The vision is Excellence in Social Work.

Social workers are committed to lifelong learning and continuing education is an integral part of that commitment. Since 1996, social workers in Newfoundland and Labrador have been required to obtain at least forty (40) continuing professional education credits annually to renew registration. This requirement is explained in the latest revision of the NLASW Continuing Professional Education Policy (2011).

The Department of Child Youth and Family Services is a major employer of social workers in this province and offers a comprehensive continuing education program for members of this profession. The Child, Youth and Family Services Basic Orientation (Pre-CORE) and the CORE Modules are offered to social workers and is a source of continuing professional education credits for individuals in this field of practice. The NLASW Registration Committee is responsible for overseeing the NLASW Continuing Professional Education Policy. This Committee reviewed the Department of Child, Youth and Family Services Pre-CORE and CORE modules in 2013 and 2014 and assigned NLASW Continuing Professional Education (CPE) credits in accordance with the current policy. The results of this accreditation process follows.
